

TAMPER RESISTANT RECEPTACLES

Tamper Resistant Receptacles, also known as TR receptacles, are an important safety feature found on various power products that work to reduce the risk of electrical shock. TR receptacles have an interior cover that will open only when the two prongs of a plug are inserted simultaneously. Our TR products throughout our Family of Brands are labeled with a "TR" stamp, etch, or mark on the face of the power product making them easily identifiable. These types of outlets are ideal for spaces that accommodate young children.
